known as Paris Spleen or Petits Poèmes en prose, is a collection of 50 short prose poems by Charles Baudelaire. The collection was published posthumously in 1869 and is associated with literary modernism . Baudelaire mentions he had read Aloysius Bertrand 's Gaspard de la nuit (considered the first example of prose poetry) at least twenty times before starting this work.

Charles Baudelaire following the FLOWERS OF EVIL pens in a searing state of BEING a work as simply pure as PARIS SPLEEN can be. That can at the same time bare such depth and complexity that the two when coexisting in form yield transcendence. A piece that whenever we return to it -- yields new insight and discovery.
